Ratepayers to meet

The Town of Elk Point has set Monday, April 18 as the date of their 1988 Annual Meeting of Electors. Notice of the Annual Meeting will be included on the municipal financial statements which will be mailed to the electors well in advance of that date.

Council met with Municipal Auditor Allen J. Warawa, C.G.A., Monday evening, to go over the 1987 audit. The audit showed that the Town kept within their budget during the year, and ended up with a small operating surplus.

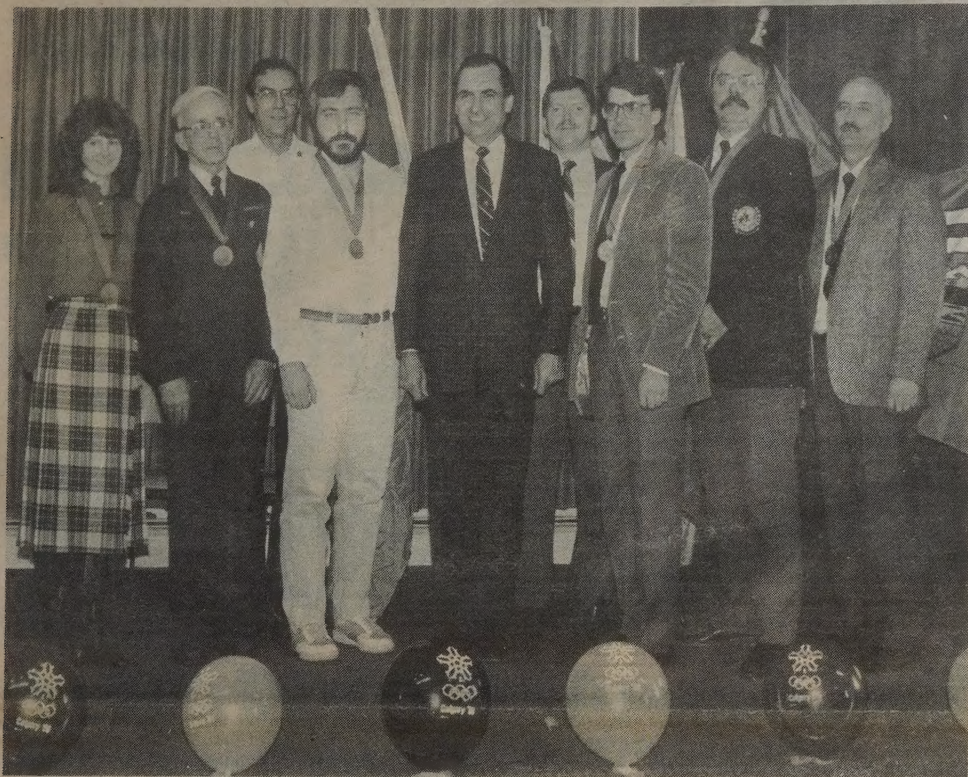

A proposal from Warawa offering the Town a 10 percent reduction in his annual fee in exchange for a 5 year appointment was approved by Council, on the condition that he continues to maintain an office in Elk Point during that time.

School Board Trustee Janice Van Maarion also visited Council to discuss education related matters, including the possibility of a strike by the County's 141 teachers. Following discussion, it was decided to include copies of the county education report with the Town's financial statement.

A report on Elk Point's lone water break of the season to date revealed that it took almost 8

The end of February is approaching and with the end of February comes the MAYOR'S DINNER THEATRE '88! Tickets are going fast so if you are interested in attending this function please call now. Remember, we are only selling 250 tickets.

There appears to be a little confusion about the Mayor's Dinner Theatre '88. For clarification, all the money raised that night and all the money brought in from ticket sales will be used for the Youth Drop-in Centre.

Centre.

The Drop-in Centre will be situated on the first floor of the old Court House, which stands behind the Town Office and beside the R.C.M.P. station, and will be furnished with items donated by thoughtful individuals. The F.G. Miller High School is loaning a ping pong table to the centre. We are planning to buy a stereo and a pool table with money raised with the help of Elk Point's youth. The Centre will be supervised by interested adult volunteers. (There's that word again).

Pioneer Circle--one more step

By Irene Magnusson

The Tuesday, February 9, 1988, Director's meeting of the Elk Point Pioneer Circle saw the group move one step closer to the desired goal of improving their meeting hall.

Secretary Marg Clark read correspondence received from the Town of Elk Point, offering the transfer of title to the land required for the extension to the hall, which has occupied the thoughts and time of the members for some time now. A few conditions went with the offer, none insurmountable.

The present hold-up to proceedings, is the lack of estimates of cost. This must be ascertained before any massive fundraising efforts can be launched. Building Committee member Morris Cooper proposed that a portion of the 'building fund' be used to obtain a set of Blueprints, following the proposed Plan, as offered for consideration at the January meeting. Builders could not be expected to offer estimates of cost, without the Blueprints before them, the committee stated.

Following discussion, this was so agreed. The request for transfer of title will be 'put on hold' until the Blueprints are in hand, and at least one estimate of possible cost of the renovating has been received. The Committee pointed out the need today to follow much tighter government requirements, to develop a building up to proper safety and accommodation regulations. "It is not the same," Cooper said, "as putting up a homesteader's shack."

Dacyks celebrate 40 years

Paul & Jean Dacyk celebrated their 40th Anniversary on Nov. 14 with their family and friends at the King George Community Hall. A beautiful Ukrainian meal was served and enjoyed by all. After supper they were presented with gifts which included a beautiful wall clock from the guests. At this time the grandchildren each presented Baba & Gido with a red rose. Later in the evening everyone danced and shared this beautiful and touching occasion. Thanks to all who came.

Congratulations mom & dad. From your daughters, Joanne, Shirley, Linda & Dolores and their families

A special birthday greeting to mom on her birthday yesterday!

RCMP hosts security seminar

Elk Point RCMP hosted a business security seminar last week, with guest experts from Lloydminster Lock and Key and Norsask Security Systems on hand to demonstrate their products.

During 1987, 58 break-and-enter incidents were reported in Elk Point, involving 40 businesses and 18 residences. Force was used in 51 of the 58.

Cst. Doug Huskins told those present how to mark their possessions so that the owner can be identified if a theft occurs and the items are found.

Windows broken or pried open were the most popular means of entry (26 incidents), with doors left unlocked, pried open or kicked in accounting for 19 more. Locks were pried off in 6 cases.

Pushbutton combination locks were highly recommended by Lloydminster Lock and Key, as being easy to re-program to cope with change of employees, and, in addition, having a hardened steel pin which is very difficult to cut through. Magnetic locks, which cannot be drilled out or picked and for which the keys cannot be duplicated without the owner's authorization, are also excellent. The firm also handles latch protectors, security hinges, deadbolts, window bars and other means of deterring would-be burglars.

John Mills, an ex-RCMP officer now with Norsask Security Systems of Saskatoon, demonstrated a state-of-the-art alarm system which "takes up where locks leave off". On sensing an intruder, the system telephones the Saskatoon station, which alerts the local RCMP — all within 90 seconds. Operated by a microprocessor, the unit has a pier-ing siren to scare off the intruder. The alarm can also monitor smoke detectors, thermostats, fences and sensitized window screens.

BREAK-IN PREVENTION — By means of a computerized burglar alarm system is demonstrated to Cst. Lesley Ripley of the Elk Point RCMP by John Mills of Norsask Security.

Restaurant month

An Oriental touch

Bored with winter? Tired of the same old routine? Try something new: stop in at Wong's Restaurant for a meal with an Oriental touch.

Elk Point's newest restaurant owner is Wendy Wong, who took over the former ABC Cafe in early December. Ms. Wong's restaurant career began in her homeland, Vietnam, where her family operated a restaurant, and continued in Canada after she moved to this country in 1982.

To date, Ms. Wong and her family find Elk Point a nice place to live, and have met many nice people.

Both Chinese and Canadian foods are included on the menu. Chinese combination dinners for one person all the way to 8 persons are a specialty. One of the family-sized meals even includes a "Nest of Happiness" — a deepfried basket made of shredded potatoes, filled with a tasty stir-fried mixture.

Canadian foods include hot and cold sandwiches, hamburgers, chops, steaks, cutlets, roast beef and fried chicken.

Wong's Restaurant is now open

Sundays and holidays from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., for your convenience, as well as 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays.

Takeout service is available and Ms. Wong would be pleased to help you prepare for a party with a selection of her special dishes.

Drop in soon for coffee or a tasty meal, and welcome the Wongs to Elk Point.

Olympic spirit

You might think that an event happening well over three hundred miles away wouldn't affect us very much, but the excitement and enthusiasm of the XV Winter Olympic Games has taken Elk Point by storm.

The thrill experienced by the many thousands of people who jammed McMahon Stadium last Saturday as the small torchbearer lit the massive flame was echoed by the students who cheered wildly as tiny Calen MacLellan carefully carried his sparkling torch around the crowded Elementary School gymnasium and set the Olympic Rings aflame.

The fans who packed the Saddledome to cheer on the Olympic hockey competitors were no more enthused than the children who piled onto the stage and sidelines to watch the teachers take on the students in the opening sporting event of the Elementary School Olympics, a rousing game of floor hockey.

Those whose accomplishments on ski runs, bobsleigh track and figure skating rink earn them the treasured medals of the Olympics will be no more proud than those whose endeavors, both recent and through the years, led Deputy Prime Minister Don Mazankowski to place medals around their necks, and certificates in their hands, at the Celebration '88 Awards.

The fans of the Olympic athletes will surely take no greater pride in their country's medal winners than we, here in Elk Point, do in those honored with the Celebration '88 Awards.

We may not have the windswept slopes of Mount Allan at our back doors, and the A. G. Ross Arena bears little resemblance to the mighty Saddledome. Our athletes may have to visit other localities to find a bobsleigh run or a luge track. Our Olympic torch may be largely composed of tinfoil, and our venue an elementary school auditorium rather than a multi-million dollar stadium. But the spirit of the Olympics, the enthusiasm, the pride, the emotion, are with us.

We are truly sharing the flame.

Disrupted lives on display

A display, of children's drawings from Central America, entitled "Disrupted Lives", is being presented by the Elk Point Save The Children chapter, at Elk Point Public Library next Monday.

The series of simple drawings done by children ages 8 to 14 in the refugee camps of central America are accompanied by comments by the artists, and show the every day realities of war and of their lives as refugees.

The display is part of a larger exhibition that has been shown in cities across Canada.

Drop in to the Library during regular hours, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., to view this thought-provoking collection of art.

I. Magnusson

Is spring fever catching?

By Irene Magnusson

Surely, I am not the only one who is suffering from Spring Fever today? When the mercury has rocketed, way up to plus 3 Celcius, which is 42 above in real temperatures! A thaw! There is water lying on my front porch, which I must sweep off, or risk a skating rink, and a skid down the steps if I dash out later, without thinking. And I hope you swept yours off, too.

According to my Weather Trivia calendar, on this date last year, Rick Hanson was spinning his wheelchair at a rate of 100 kms a day, across Saskatchewan, under balmy skies, above freezing temps and no wind, with bare fields and cattle grazing. Even I can remember that February was a delight, and I probably skied every day. I think we had a bit more snow, but even so, most of it was gone from the fields, into the waiting ditches and road allowances.

The Maritimes and Eastern provinces were not so fortunate, and had some pretty tough weather. Trivia says that on February 11, 1987, a shopping mall roof collapsed from the weight of 30 cm of snow (12 inches), possibly on top of a lot of earlier snowfall, injuring seven shoppers, as the second-storey roof came smashing down into the lower floor - and on their heads.

Well, today is such a change from all last week, we just had to go out and - we thought, as my friend and I snapped on our skis have a real nice zip down the slopes. It was not like that at all.

I hadn't gone ten feet before I realized it wouldn't be all clear sailing. The top of the snow was soft and wet, underneath it was hard and dry. So the wet sticky stuff collected - until it was three inches thick on our skis, and we could hardly move at all. We tried banging, and finally found a little pole to run them over - to no avail. We ended up going about three quarters of a mile, desperately hard slugging, and finally staggered in, played out, but we did really give our leg muscles a working out.

And that's the point of skiing, isn't it?

There will be some activity worth noticing, in the skies this February, for those who indulge in star-gazing. (Only it will be planets). Saturn, bright in the east just before dawn, will be joined by Uranus (dim and they say, greenish) and on February 22 and 23, Mars will also move in, for a very close get together, such as will not be seen again before 2006. So wash your east window, find your binoculars, and get up before breakfast next week (Monday and Tuesday) for a look at this 'star' (planet) cluster. I plan to keep the sky clear, so you can all see them.

Also, my old Farmer's Almanac says, Mars will appear bigger and brighter than it has for 16 or 17 years, since it is quite close to earth, and with your binoculars, should show its rich red coloring clearly to you.

This same source gives the weather for the remainder of February as "cold, severe cold wave, 18-23, snow, then clearing, 24-28, clear and mild, light snow, going out with cold and snow, 29... but their forecast of very mild in the first week was wrong, so possibly they are just a few weeks out of time. Anyway, we know we are on the downhill slide into spring, and nothing that happens cold can last too long, or the winds of March will roust it out.

The days are so much longer now, and even the birds seem livelier. Those little rascals can really pack away a pile of sunflower seeds, can't they? The red polls have been back a few times, so very tiny, timid and quick. The chickadees are bossy, they think all the feeders are for them, so chase the red polls away, but not really meanly, just pushy. One woodpecker has started pecking the post on which the feeder sits, so may have it gone by spring. I quit feeding them then, anyway.

I melted all the snow that fell in my rain gauge (its about three inches across) since February 1, it made .10" (1/10th) of an inch of moisture. We could be in for a very dry year.

And not at all comparable to the world record for rainfall which occurred on March 15, 1952, on an island in the Indian Ocean, a total of 1,870 mm, (which I make out to be either 74.7 inches - or 6.23 feet)! All this fell in one day.

Canada's claim to fame along these lines is a record of 489 mm (16.3 inches) which fell in one day at Ucluelet, Vancouver Island, October 6, 1967.

Enough of these records. I must sweep my steps...went to do that, found it almost all evaporated, but what was (is) left is now ice. Well..I can't do the right thing everytime, can I?

See you next week.

and area, who partook in the survey on senior's problems, housing and needs, last summer, either as interviewers, or interviewees, and who may be wondering "What about it?" there is some news. Yes, there will be a report before long, and no, it hasn't been forgotten.

The substance of all the interviews has gone through the mill, they have been consigned to computers and results have been tabulated - again and again. In the long run, there will be a complete, readable report, with charts to prove it. Just be patient.

Over in Camrose, the firm of Bonnie Hutchinson Enterprises has been working to tabulate and correlate all the answers the interviewers marked down on all those pages last summer.

Several meetings between Ms. Hutchinson and the Elk Point Senior Citizen Survey Steering Committee have taken place this past winter, each one bringing the finished product closer to perfection.

The end result will be a booklet, with a yellow cover, complete with art work by our own artist, Ralph Kryvenchuk. Within will be numerous graphs, and charts, conclusions and recommendations, based on the information gathered. No one will know how YOU answered any question, only the total of all the answers will be given.

The hope of the committee is still that all this information will be of use to seniors, in planning how they live, and especially how others will see their needs.

It will be a good report. Just be patient.

TEACHERS' STRIKE LOOMS

The North Central East School Authorities Association (NCESAA), comprised of school boards in the Counties of Athabasca, St. Paul, Thorhild, Smoky Lake and Two Hills, as well as Glen Avon School in St. Paul and St. Paul Regional High School, is advised that TEACHERS will hold an official STRIKE VOTE in their schools on FEBRUARY 19, 1988.

On January 29, 1988, the NCESAA, in a letter to the Alberta Teachers' Association (ATA) in Edmonton, asked that the unresolved issues in this thirteen-month-old labor dispute be sent to a binding ARBITRATION BOARD. The NCESAA believes that binding arbitration is the REASONABLE and PEACEFUL way to settle this labor dispute without harming the education of the children in our communities.

DID YOU KNOW THAT THE ATA IN EDMONTON, on behalf of the North Central East teachers, is DEMANDING:

- a 6% increase to salaries and allowances over 24 months.
- significant increases in each school board's contributions to health plans.
- one-month off with pay for each three years of service upon attaining fifteen years of service with a school board.
- a plan into which teachers can put 20% of their annual salary so that after five years teachers can take a year off with pay.
- an early retirement incentive plan which would provide lump sum payments to retiring teachers.
- a guaranteed number of paid leaves each year for professional improvement.
- aid time off from school to do the business of the ATA.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

- over 60% of North Central East teachers earn between $40,400 and $43,300, with an additional $2,300 in benefits for nine months' work per year.
- there are fewer pupils per teacher in the NCESAA than the Alberta average. To reach the Alberta average, forty teachers in North Central East would lose their jobs.
- compensation for North Central East teachers over the period of 1980 to 1987 increased 116.9% for a beginning teacher and 49.6% for a teacher at maximum salary. This compares to a consumer price index rise of 44.4% and an education funding change of 41.7% over the same period.
- salaries paid to teachers of North Central East are sufficient to recruit and retain qualified teachers.
- with no change to the existing collective agreement, teachers will, on average, receive 1.3% more in 1987 and a further 1.6% in 1988.
- the ATA's current demand for a 6% salary increase would cost the NCESAA over $850,000. To recover this cost from local school taxes would require, on average, a 12% increase.
- Albert government grants, the major portion of school board funding, are reduced over the period September 1, 1987 to August 31, 1989.

Arbitration is the reasonable way to settle this thirteen-month-old labor dispute without our students losing their education.

What will it take to convince teachers that arbitration is the peaceful way to settle this dispute?

Clandonald news

By Shirley Osinchuk

The Clandonald Ladies' Bonspiel, from Feb. 4 to 7, was a success, with thirteen rinks entered. The weather was cold, the ice was good, and everyone won. In the first event, the S. Warawa rink from Vermilion placed first, I. Rochford, Clandonald, second; C. Polowy, Clandonald, third, and M. Molineux, Clandonald, fourth.

The D. Popil rink from Vermilion was first in the second event; J. Romanchuk, Dewberry, second; J. Harasiuk, Clandonald, third, and E. Etherington, Clandonald, fourth.

Darlene Barr and her rink from Vermilion received the Hard Luck prize.

The week-end fun included a muffin, cheese and coffee breakfast, Saturday barbequed beef banquet and Sunday breakfast prepared by Frank Molineux, Eugene Deford and Ken Lawrence, of the Clandonald Board of Trade.

With the Saturday curling all finished before the banquet, the ladies relaxed and enjoyed skits by Caroline Polowy, Loretta Harasiuk and Elaine Etherington. Elaine also donated decorated cookies which were won in a "Bids" game by Kyla Harasiuk.

Door prizes were won by Irene Rochford, Pat Olenberger, Elaine Trach, Patricia Moroniuk and Cathy Dahoy. Judi Harasiuk won the prize for the most "hogs", and costume prizes went to the "Insane Infants" lead by Mildred Molineux, and 2, the Torch Runners, "coached by Mila Mulrone", lead by June Romanchuk.

The Junior High girls' basketball team is having a good season. On Sat., Feb. 6, they played in a tournament in J. R. Robson. In the first game, against the J. R. Marauders, Clandonald took the lead early in the first half, but J.R. caught up in the last few seconds, ending the half tied 8 - 8. In the second half, J. R. pulled steadily ahead, until Marie Lawrence scored with just over three minutes left. Then J.R.'s number 14 scored the first successful free throw of the game, edging the score to 10 - 15 for J.R. Marie scored a basket within seconds, then J.R.'s Number 11 scored another free throw.

Comeback time! With 25 seconds left in the game, Angie Nelson passed to Marie Lawrence, for a basket. Shannon Convey sunk two free throws, and the game was tied. Only seconds remained! Angie Nelson threw it in to break the tie, and win the game 18 - 16.

In the second game, St. Jerome's and Kitscoty kept the score fairly even, until St. Jerome's came from behind to win 22 - 20.

At 12:45, Clandonald met Kitscoty, and took the lead, on baskets by Leah Anne Grant and Angie Nelson. Then Kitscoty edged ahead, and kept the lead. Kitscoty's number 14, was the high scorer of the game, which was 15-6 at the end of the first half.

Early in the second half, Sarah Osinchuk scored on two free throws, but Clandonald was unable to make a comeback. Angie Nelson sunk a free throw with 33 seconds left and Leah Anne Grant scored with 5 seconds on the clock to make the final score 25-11.

The girls played at St. Jerome's on Thur., Feb. 11, winning 48-10.

The Junior High boys' season is just getting underway, with a game on Tues., Feb. 9, which Marwayne won.

Welcome to Teva Marie Butz who was born on Monday, Feb. 8, a little sister for Jordan.

The Clandonald-Dewberry Oldtimers Hockey Tournament on Sunday, Feb. 7, involved teams from St. Paul, Derwent, Glendon and Clandonald-Dewberry. Glendon won the A side, and Clandonald-Dewberry won the B side. The 50/50 Jackpot winner was Iris Brown.

Friday, Feb. 12, was a busy day at Clandonald School. The winner of the annual Count the Hearts Contest was Nadine DeFord who guessed that there were 1,039.

My nominations for GOOD SPORT OF THE YEAR is Art Lawrence, who "won?" the Kiss the Pig Contest. On Friday afternoon, Art came to the school and caught and kissed a pig which was dressed in shirt and bonnet. Then for the benefit of all the eager photographers, he held the pig in his arms. The audience included many other parents and members of the community. Art's votes and the votes for the other fathers of Grade nine students earned $330.00 toward the trip to Quebec at Easter. Thanks a lot, Art. You are a winner in my book.

When all the visitors left, the students got down to serious business of Valentine parties and a Junior High Sock Hop.

Out our way

By Mildred Dunham

Ferguson Flats had a fair tournament for their Valentine social evening. A fun bingo was held for the enjoyment of the kids. They are looking forward to this weekends' whist party.

A tupperware party was held at Primrose (mine) but because of the weather the turnout was small.

We have been informed of the passing of Ben French of Kelowna B.C., a long time resident of Ferguson Flats. He would have been 95 on his next birthday. Ben cared very much about his family and friends and put a lot of effort into community work. He gave a lot of information to the Ferguson Flats ladies club to assist them with the Ferguson Flats history book. Ben had a good memory and was the only settler left to provide that sort of information.
